

08/15/07 - WHY!!!!????

Ok Ok... call me a Mac / Apple Fanboy... I accept it.

And sure, when I had to decide on what enterprise e-mail system we should use... I picked Microsoft Exchange 2003.

We decided on MS Exchange because we wanted full BES (Blackberry) support... it was either Exchange or Lotus... both are junk in my opinion.

Anyways, as you might know MS Exchange 2003 stores ALL of the e-mail in a couple of HUGE files. If ANYTHING happens to those files everything can disappear.. and of course something did happen. I have backups..etc but its nightly and I really did not want to lose a days worth of mail.

It's midnight... I have been working at this since 5pm and im sure I have a few more hours left

Apple?? Where is your Exchange killer? Make a deal with Blackberry so their BES server talks to your iCal server!

-end rant
